"For you were called to freedom, brothers and sisters. But do not use this freedom as an opportunity for the flesh; rather serve one another through love." (GALATIANS 5:13) We like to celebrate the fact that we are free to "live the good life." But Jesus calls us to a different kind of freedom. St. Paul reminds us that Jesus sets us free so that we can serve one another, share our gifts and promote God's work here on earth to glorify His name and not honor ourselves.

Saints of the Roman Canon: St. Philip

St. Philip was the fourth of the fishermen of Bethsaida in Galilee called by the Saviour to the Apostolate. In the Gospel he is frequently mentioned with distinction. His touching supplication is well known: "Lord, show us the Father and it sufficeth us!" and the reply of Jesus: "Philip, he that seeth Me, seeth the Father also!" He exercised his apostolate in Phrygia, and died in Hierapolis on a cross, stoned to death by the enraged populace. The bodies of the holy Apostles Philip and James repose under the high altar of the Church of the Twelve Apostles in Rome, where quite recently they were exhumed and examined. Pictures of St. Philip represent him with the instrument of his martyrdom, the cross, formed like a Latin T.

Pastor's Piece

Dear People of God,

As we celebrate the birth of our nation this week we pray that she be a place where life is protected from conception until a holy death, that her liberty is always practiced in service of virtue and the pursuit of happiness be always toward the good. God bless!

May God Bless You!
